This is the first anthology to address the relationship between the events of the Nazi genocide and the intellectual concerns of contemporary literary and cultural theory in one substantial and indispensable volume. Wide in its thematic scope, it covers such vital questions as authenticity and experience; memory and trauma; fascism and Nazi anti-Semitism; representation and identity formation; and race, gender, and genocide.

The readings represent the work of many influential writers and theorists, including Theodor Adorno, Giorgio Agamben, Hannah Arendt, Jean Baudrillard, Zygmunt Bauman, Walter Benjamin, Cathy Caruth, Jacques Derrida, Shoshana Felman, Saul Friedlander, Paul Gilroy, Lawrence Langer, Emmanuel Levinas, Primo Levi, Jean-François Lyotard, Hayden White, and James E. The Holocaust and the Art of Secondary Witnessing

DORA APEL

Dora Apel analyzes the ways in which artists born after the Holocaust—whom she calls secondary witnesses—represent a history they did not experience first hand.
